Introduction

The 2009 Referendum on Electoral Reform was held on May 12, 2009, in conjunction with British Columbia's 39th Provincial General Election. This report contains the results of the referendum by voting area, as well as electoral district maps and an account of the referendum proceedings.

The referendum was a province-wide vote to determine which electoral system British Columbians should use to elect members to the provincial Legislative Assembly: the existing first-past-the-post (FPTP) electoral system or the single transferable vote electoral system (BC-STV) proposed by the Citizens' Assembly on Electoral Reform. In accordance with the Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act, voting in the referendum occurred at the same voting opportunities as the general election. Voters received two ballots – one to elect a Member of the Legislative Assembly (MLA) and one to express a preference in the referendum.

The Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act set two thresholds for BC-STV to be selected as the preferred electoral system and for the result to be binding on government. The first threshold required that BC-STV receive at least 60% of the popular vote province-wide. The second required that BC-STV receive a simple majority in at least 60%, or 51, of the 85 electoral districts. Neither threshold was met. BC-STV received 623,420 of the 1,594,770 valid votes cast province-wide (39.09% of the popular vote), and a majority in eight electoral districts.

For detailed voting results of the general election, see the Statement of Votes, 39th Provincial General Election, May 12, 2009.

Citizens' Assembly on Electoral Reform and the 2005 Referendum on Electoral Reform

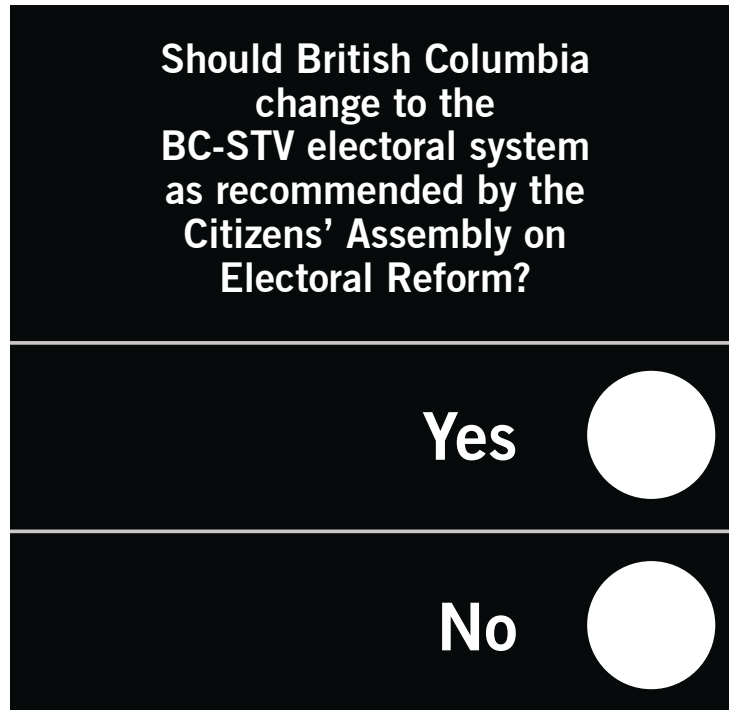

The 2009 Referendum on Electoral Reform was the result of the outcome of the 2005 Referendum on Electoral Reform, in which BC-STV support exceeded one threshold and narrowly missed the other.

In April 2003, government established the Citizens' Assembly on Electoral Reform. Comprising one man and one woman randomly selected from each of the 79 electoral districts in effect at the time, plus two First Nations members and a chair, the mandate of the Citizens' Assembly was to "assess models for electing Members of the Legislative Assembly and issue a report recommending whether the current model for these elections should be retained or another model should be adopted."

After studying various electoral systems, reviewing public submissions and holding public hearings, the Citizens' Assembly released its final report in December 2004. The report proposed that British Columbia adopt BC-STV, a form of the single transferable vote electoral system.

In accordance with the Electoral Reform Referendum Act, a referendum was administered in conjunction with the May 17, 2005 General Election. Voters were asked to respond 'Yes' or 'No' to the question 'Should British Columbia change to the BC-STV electoral system as recommended by the Citizens' Assembly on Electoral Reform?'

The Electoral Reform Referendum Act set a double approval threshold for the 2005 referendum. In order for the result to be binding on government, at least 60% of the valid votes cast province-wide had to support BC-STV, and a majority of the valid votes cast in at least 60%, or 48, of the 79 electoral districts also had to be in support of BC-STV.

Only one of the two thresholds was met.

Table 1: 2005 Referendum results

	Threshold requirement	Final results	Threshold reached?
Threshold 1	At least 60% of valid votes cast vote 'yes'	57.69% of the total valid votes cast voted 'yes'	No
Threshold 2	In at least 48 of 79 electoral districts more than 50% of valid votes cast vote 'yes'	77 electoral districts voted 'yes' by more than 50%	Yes

Government addressed the referendum result in the 2005 Speech from the Throne. It acknowledged the significant support for electoral reform as evidenced by the results. It also stated that voters had been missing a critical piece of information that may have affected how they would vote: an understanding of how the provincial electoral map and the resulting distribution of MLAs would be configured under BC-STV.

Consequently, government announced that it would task the Electoral Boundaries Commission – scheduled to be appointed by November 30, 2005 – with proposing electoral boundaries for both electoral systems. The boundaries would be presented to the public as part of an extensive education campaign, culminating in a second referendum on electoral reform to be held in conjunction with the November 2008 municipal elections. If passed, BC-STV would be used for the next scheduled general election, on May 12, 2009.

Due to concerns about the short implementation period and potential jurisdictional confusion between provincial and municipal electoral events, in April 2006 government rescheduled the referendum to occur in conjunction with the May 12, 2009 Provincial General Election. If passed, BC-STV would be used for the next scheduled general election in May 2013.

Legislative framework

The Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act, Election Act and Recall and Initiative Act provided the legislative framework for the 2009 Referendum on Electoral Reform. The specific procedures for administering the referendum in conjunction with the general election were provided by the Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act Regulation.

The Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act established that the Referendum Act did not apply to the referendum. It also set the threshold for the referendum result to be binding on government. Proportionally, it was identical to the 2005 threshold.

For BC-STV to be selected as the preferred electoral system, it required:

- the votes of at least 60% of the validly cast ballots province-wide, and
- in at least 60%, or 51, of the 85 electoral districts, the votes of more than 50% of the validly cast ballots.

The Act also established that opponent and proponent groups would receive public funds to provide information to the public regarding the two electoral systems.

The Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act Regulation was established on October 10, 2008. It specified which provisions of the Election Act and Recall and Initiative Act applied to the referendum. With certain exceptions, the Regulation required that the procedures for voting and counting in the referendum were to be the same as the procedures for voting and counting in the election.

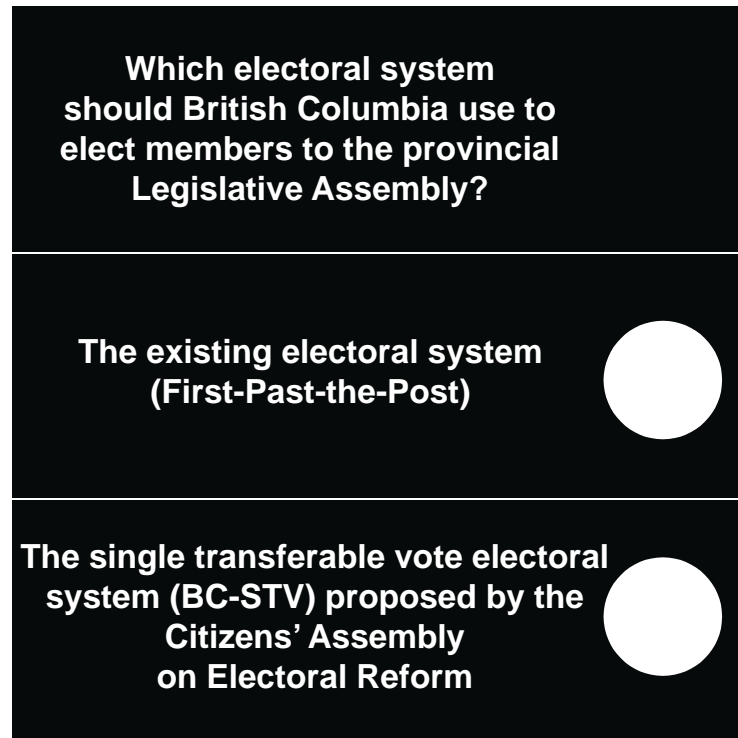

At every voting opportunity, voters received a referendum ballot and an election ballot. To ensure they were distinguishable from election ballots, referendum ballots were printed with different coloured ink. Both ballots were deposited into a single ballot box. Counting of the referendum ballots occurred immediately following the counting of the ballots for the election.

The Regulation also provided additional detail about the opponent and proponent groups established by the Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act. It clarified how the groups would be selected and organized, and established that the designated opponent and proponent groups would each receive $500,000 from the Chief Electoral Officer. Further sections detailed how the funds were to be used, the responsibilities of financial agents and the process for receiving and reporting referendum contributions. The Regulation also established that each group was permitted to have observers present during voting and counting proceedings.

The referendum advertising provisions of the Regulation were amended on December 11, 2008 to permit candidates and registered political parties to conduct referendum advertising in conjunction with election advertising.

The referendum question was established in a Schedule to the Regulation:

Calendar of events

Because the referendum and general election were administered in conjunction, their calendars of events were similar.

For referendum financing purposes, the Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act Regulation established that the referendum campaign period began on February 1, 2009 and ended at the close of general voting on May 12, 2009.

Election officials

A District Electoral Officer (DEO) is appointed for each electoral district by the Chief Electoral Officer. DEOs are responsible for conducting elections and referendums in their assigned electoral districts. They are assisted by Deputy District Electoral Officers (DDEOs), who are also appointed by the Chief Electoral Officer.

In some electoral districts, two district electoral offices are required to ensure accessibility. In those cases, a second DDEO is appointed to manage the additional office.

Because the referendum was administered in conjunction with the general election, DEOs, DDEOs and election officials performed the same duties for both events. Election official roles include:

- Voting Officers, who are responsible for voting stations. Voting Officers issue ballots and maintain the ballot box. At the close of voting, Voting Officers count the ballots and are responsible for ballot reconciliation.
- Voting Clerks, who assist Voting Officers. Voting Clerks maintain the voting book for a voting station and during counting, record the votes on a tally sheet.
- Information Officers, who provide information to voters and are specially trained to assist those with disabilities.
- Supervisory Voting Officers, who supervise the officials at a voting place.
- Voter Registration Officers, who register voters in conjunction with voting, update voters' registration information and issue advance voting certificates.

For the referendum and general election, DEOs hired 36,932 election officials. A further 963 employees were hired to provide administrative support in the district electoral offices and to train election officials.

Voter registration

The Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act and Regulation established that the voter qualifications to participate in the referendum were the same as the qualifications to vote in the 2009 General Election. To ensure a high-quality voters list for the 39th Provincial General Election and 2009 Referendum on Electoral Reform, Elections BC employed a comprehensive enumeration strategy.

Between February 2, 2009 and April 14, 2009 (Writ Day), Elections BC mailed customized letters to nearly two million residential addresses. The letters called on eligible voters to take action by registering as new voters or by confirming and updating existing voter registrations at their residence. Voters were also encouraged to remove voters who no longer resided at their residence, thus improving the quality of the voters list. Voter registration services were available by phone, through the Online Voter Registration service, by fax or in person at a Service BC office or at Elections BC's Victoria headquarters.

The mail-based enumeration was supported by targeted outreach activities to groups who have historically been under-represented on the voters list. Elections BC staff visited homeless shelters, social services agencies and long-term care facilities to register eligible voters, update voter records and provide information about voting opportunities. Elections BC also hired liaison officers to engage British Columbia's youth and Aboriginal communities, and designed enumeration stickers to attach to computer monitors at public libraries, Service BC offices and post-secondary institutions. The enumeration was accompanied by a comprehensive advertising campaign on radio, television and the Internet.

From the beginning of the enumeration until Writ Day for the general election, 39,864 new voters were added to the voters list. A further 48,219 voter registrations were updated or confirmed, while 55,349 voters were removed. A total of 2,946,268 voters were on the preliminary voters list.

After Writ Day, general registration remained available until Day 7 (April 21, 2009). During this period, 4,761 individuals registered to vote, 8,309 registrations were updated or confirmed and 2,854 voters were removed from the voters list. At the close of general registration, there were 2,948,175 registered voters on the revised voters list.

After Day 7, registration was only available in conjunction with voting. Voters who wished to register in conjunction with voting had to prove their identity and residence in accordance with new legislation.

There were 110,408 voter registration transactions completed in conjunction with voting, resulting in 49,368 new registrations, 58,962 updates and 2,078 removals. At the end of General Voting Day, there were 2,995,465 registered voters on the voters list, representing 92.49% of estimated eligible voters.

Table 4: Voter registration statistics

Total change in voter registrations		33,712	1.14%

* Registration percentages were calculated using the most recent BC Stats eligible voter estimate available at the time. Estimates were received for January 13, 2009, April 6, 2009 and May 12, 2009.

Public information and communications

In February 2009, government established a Referendum Information Office to provide neutral information to voters about the existing first-past-the-post electoral system and the proposed BC-STV electoral system. As the Referendum Information Office was to be the source of neutral information about the subject matter of the referendum, Elections BC focused its referendum communications on the voting process. Elections BC employed an integrated approach, adapting election materials where possible to communicate information about both the general election and the referendum.

The communications strategy included placing advertisements in newspapers, movie theatres and on television and radio, developing a referendum-specific webpage, establishing a presence on social networking websites, mailing informational pamphlets, hiring Aboriginal and youth liaison officers, distributing news releases and media advisories and operating a 1-800 information centre.

Between April 15, 2009 and May 11, 2009, Elections BC played a motivational advertisement in movie theatres and on television. The advertisement, entitled “Five Days of Voting,” reminded voters of the availability and convenience of advance and general voting.

Elections BC published eight news releases and four media advisories related to the general election and the referendum between April 14, 2009 and May 12, 2009. Earned media opportunities were developed by providing journalists with story ideas and editorials, while DEOs and deputies, Aboriginal and youth liaison officers and headquarters staff participated in numerous media interviews.

Elections BC also created a referendum webpage that contained links to the referendum opponent and proponent groups and the Referendum Information Office, information about the new voter identification requirements, as well as referendum voting results after the close of general voting. The Know Your Electoral District website application was updated to provide DEO office contact information and voting place addresses for each electoral district. An online request form allowed voters to directly request a mail-in voting package.

Elections BC’s website continues to be an important resource for voters, the media and other clients seeking provincial electoral information. The website received 283,885 visitors between April 14, 2009 and May 12, 2009 (an average of 9,789 per day), with 47,582 visits on General Voting Day.

To expand its online presence, Elections BC established profiles on the social networking websites Facebook, LinkedIn and Twitter. By broadening the scope of its communications beyond traditional media, Elections BC sought to spread awareness of the referendum among voters who use the Internet as their primary source for news.

Elections BC signed a service agreement with Service BC to operate a 1-800 call centre between February 2, 2009 and May 13, 2009. Until May 5, 2009, operators were available weekdays from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and Saturdays from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Between May 6, 2009 and

May 12, 2009, operators were available every day from 7:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., except for Sunday May 10, when they answered calls from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Operators provided information on a wide variety of general election and referendum topics. From April 14 to May 12, 2009, the 1-800 call centre answered 48,529 phone calls.

Between April 24, 2009 and April 28, 2009, an unaddressed colour pamphlet was delivered to every household in the province. The pamphlet was designed to provide voters with all the information they required in order to vote in the general election and referendum. It contained maps of both the existing first-past-the-post electoral districts and the BC-STV electoral districts proposed by the Electoral Boundaries Commission. The pamphlet also contained information about registering as a voter in conjunction with voting, the identification requirements, the vouching process and where to find voting place locations.

To ensure voters were aware of voting opportunities, a Where to Vote card was mailed to every registered voter. Delivered prior to the beginning of advance voting, the card indicated the voter's electoral district and voting area of residence, the dates, times and locations for advance voting and the date, time and location of the voter's assigned general voting place.

The Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act Regulation required the Chief Electoral Officer to make information and maps for the two electoral systems available at every voting opportunity. To fulfill this obligation, Elections BC prepared three provincial electoral district maps. One depicted the 85 first-past-the-post electoral district boundaries, another depicted the BC-STV electoral district boundaries proposed by the Electoral Boundaries Commission and the third depicted both sets of boundaries overlaid against one another. Elections BC also developed a website application comparing the first-past-the-post boundaries to the proposed BC-STV boundaries over digital satellite imagery of the province.

The Referendum Information Office provided Elections BC with neutral information regarding each electoral system. This information was used at all voting opportunities and in the information pamphlet distributed to households throughout the province.

Opponent and proponent groups

Government announced the selection of No STV as the referendum opponent group and British Columbians for STV as the referendum proponent group in January 2009. In accordance with the Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act, Elections BC distributed $500,000 to each group in two instalments: $435,000 on February 2, 2009, and $65,000 on April 1, 2009.

The Regulation required that both groups be non-profit, and that their members and directors be volunteers. Neither group could be a political party or a constituency association, and their directors could not be candidates, election officials, voter registration officials or Elections BC employees.

In addition to public funding, both groups were eligible to receive referendum contributions. Financial agents for both groups were required to file financing reports within 90 days after the end of the referendum campaign period.

Summaries of the financing reports of the opponent and proponent groups will be published in the Chief Electoral Officer's report on the 39th Provincial General Election and 2009 Referendum on Electoral Reform.

Voting

Voting in the 2009 Referendum on Electoral Reform occurred at the same opportunities and followed the same procedures as voting in the 39th Provincial General Election.

General Voting Day was May 12, 2009. Advance voting was available to all voters from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on the Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday before General Voting Day. Voters who were unable to attend their assigned voting place could vote, under absentee provisions, at any other voting opportunity in the province. Beginning on Writ Day, qualified voters were able to vote in the office of the District Electoral Officer or by mail. The Election Act permitted DEOs to establish special voting opportunities for voters who may have been unable to vote at other voting opportunities.

For the referendum on electoral reform, 74.03% of voters voted on General Voting Day, and 17.14% voted during advance voting. Although voters were required to accept both an election ballot and a referendum ballot, some voters did not return both ballots. As such, participation rates differ between the election and the referendum. For the number of voters who used each voting opportunity in the general election, see the Statement of Votes, 39th Provincial General Election, May 12, 2009.

Counting

The Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act Regulation established that counting of the votes for the referendum would proceed in accordance with the Election Act, with certain exceptions. At the close of voting on General Voting Day, election officials opened the ballot boxes and conducted the initial count. The initial count is the count of ordinary ballots from advance voting and general voting. In accordance with the Regulation, the ballots were separated, and election officials completed the initial count for the election before conducting the initial count for the referendum.

Ballots contained in certification envelopes from other voting opportunities, such as absentee voting and special voting, are considered at the final count. Final count was when the results of the referendum were determined based on the combined votes accepted during the initial count and during the final count.

The Election Act requires that the final count begin on Day 41, 13 days after General Voting Day. This allows enough time for absentee ballots contained in certification envelopes to be shipped to the appropriate DEO. The final count is held in the district electoral office and may continue for up to three days.

The final count for the election and referendum began in every electoral district on May 25, 2009. Following the final count, the Chief Electoral Officer could make an application for a judicial recount of referendum ballots if the results in an electoral district or throughout the province were considered sufficiently close to the thresholds. No applications for a judicial recount were made.

The Chief Electoral Officer announced the final results of the referendum in a letter to the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, dated June 3, 2009. The results did not meet either threshold established by the Electoral Reform Referendum 2009 Act.

Table 6: 2009 Referendum results

	Threshold requirement	Final results	Threshold reached?
Threshold 1	The votes of at least 60% of the validly cast ballots province-wide	39.09% of the total valid votes cast voted for BC-STV	No
Threshold 2	In at least 51, or 60%, of the 85 electoral districts, the votes of more than 50% of the validly cast ballots	In eight electoral districts, voters voted for BC-STV by more than 50%	No

Please note that all data in this report has been reviewed and corrected, if necessary, to ensure it accurately reflects the results as determined by election officials during initial and final count.
